AHIP STUDY TIPS GUIDE

How to Pass Your AHIP Exam Quickly and Confidently

Completing your AHIP certification is the first step toward a successful AEP. Without it, you can't access carrier appointments for Medicare Advantage or PDP plans.

This guide will help you:

- Study smarter [even if you're cramming]
- Avoid costly mistakes
- Complete your exam with confidence

Pro Tip: AHIP allows 3 attempts before you must repurchase the exam. Use this guide to maximize your chances of passing the first time.

5-DAY CRAM PLAN + HIGH-WEIGHTED TOPICS

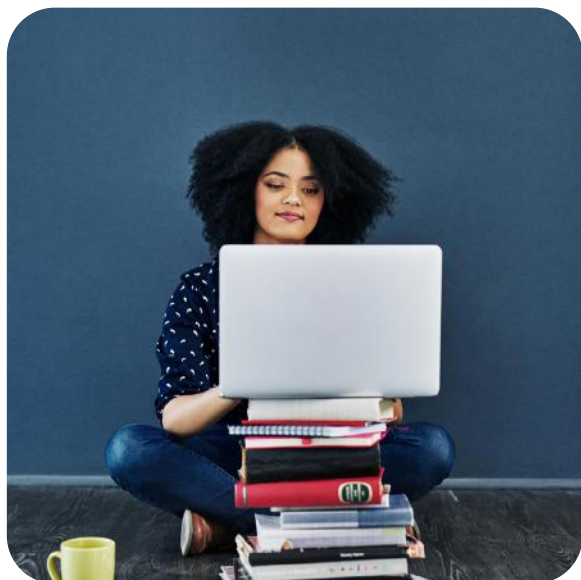

5-Day Study Plan [Even if You're Starting Late]

- Day 1: Focus on Medicare Basics [Parts A, B, C, and D]
- Day 2: Study Eligibility & Enrollment Rules
- Day 3: Dive into CMS Marketing & Compliance Guidelines
- Day 4: Review Employer Group Health Plans + Special Enrollment Periods
- Day 5: Take a timed practice exam and review missed questions

Key: Medicare basics and compliance questions make up the majority of the exam. Spend the most time here!

High-Weighted Topics [Know These Cold]:

- Medicare Parts A, B, C, and D [coverage + cost-sharing]
- Enrollment rules [Initial, SEP, and disenrollment periods]
- CMS marketing and compliance rules
- Coordination of benefits [when beneficiaries have other coverage]

TIPS + WHAT TO DO AFTER YOU PASS

Top Tips to Maximize Your Score

1. Use flashcards or condensed guides to reinforce key terms.
2. Break study sessions into 30–45 min blocks to improve retention.
3. Read every question carefully [small wording differences matter].
4. Skip questions you're unsure of and return later—don't waste time.
5. Take at least one practice test before the real thing.

What to Do Once You Pass

- Transmit your AHIP completion certificate to all carriers [check their portals].
- Complete carrier-specific certifications ASAP.
- Start your AEP prep tasks [marketing, client outreach, and scheduling].
